Tax Committee Named for Chamber of Commerce

Group of Marion Industrial and Business Leaders in Body To Work with Public Officials in Attempt To Reduce Cost of Government.

The formation of a tax committee whose purpose it will be to work with city and county officials in an attempt to solve some of the tax problems, was announced today by W. D. Brown, executive vice president of the Marion chamber of commerce.

The personnel of the committee formed at a meeting of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce last night was given by the executive vice president as Fred Guthery, C. B. King, A. W. Newby, Frank Glosser, J. H. Watters, C. F. LaMarche, John Schroeder, James Batey, G. Farr Larie, Arthur J. Berry, Edson Bush, Alfred Donithen, S. B. Stowe, C. D. Mittenbuhler, Roy Waddell, Dr. H. K. Mouser, J. Wilbur Jacoby and J. Malcolm Strelitz. The committee, Mr. Brown said, will work with the board of directors of the chamber.

In discussing the committee Mr. Brown said, "the sole purpose of the committee is to work with the public offcials in a constructive way in order to bring about adequate control of taxes. The board of directors is convinced that the participation of the citizens will be benificial in proportion to the intelligent and unselfish contribution which the citizens of the community make to the administration of law and government. As a foundation for its program of work, an intensive study of tax conditions of the city, county and schools will be made by the committee; and the public will be furnished with the facts and information. The budgets are the most important documents in the tax program as their set-up represents or fixes the amount of taxes. The fundamental objective of the committee, therefore, will be in cooperating with the budget officials in the making and administration of the budgets."

A program of work for the fall and winter months, was also planned by the board at the meeting last night, Mr. Brown said. He also announced that the convention, tourists and publicity committee had adopted a policy of regular monthly luncheon meetings to be held on the third Monday in each month and that a program of publicity for Marion was being planned.

TAMMANY LEADER TO FACE PROBERS

Curry Will Be Asked To Explain Mysterious Phone Call to Lake Placid.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 13—John F. Curry, leader of Tammany hall, is to be a witness at a public hearing before the state legislative committee investigating the New York City government.

Mr. Curry will be asked by Samuel Seabury, counsel for the committee, to explain a telephone call made from his New York apartment three weeks ago to Lake Placid, N. Y., where Appellate Division Justice Henry L. Sherman has a summer home. On the day after that telephone call, Justice Sherman signed a stay of execution for William F. Doyle, veterinarian, who had been sentenced to serve 30 days in jail for refusing to tell the committee with whom he split fees for appearances before the city board of standards and appeals in regard to enforcement of building regulations.

The court of appeals Monday upheld the sentence imposed on Doyle and yesterday he started court proceedings to compel Seabury to give him a chance to purge himself of contempt. Seabury desires to question Curry before he again examines Doyle.

Indications are that Curry will be question today or Friday.

Ohio's New Tax Laws

This is the third of a series of articles by International News Service, explaining the new taxation laws adopted by the Ohio 89th general assembly.

DETERMINED that none shall escape, the state tax commission will establish at least a dozen branch offices in principal cities from which it will direct its investigations in the administration of the new intangible tax law.

Sharp scrutiny being necessary to find all the intangible wealth, additional forces to assist the commission in making its examinations complete were provided in the bill as it was passed by the 89th general assembly and approved by Governor George White.

Work of enforcing the new law was expected to be so great that the legislature passed a companion bill providing for the appointment of a new member of the tax commission, employed to handle the intangible act alone.

Anthony J. Kraus of Upper Sandusky, who was named to that place by Governor White, already is at work. He formerly was a special accountant for the tax commission.

Where the branch offices will be located has not yet been decided by the commission.

Since the intangible tax laws deals chiefly with the collection of assessments on deposits, stocks, bank notes, credits, and investments of all types, the branch offices probably will be located in the Ohio centers of wealth, Quincy Davis, Butler county member of the commission, told International News Service.

SPANISH WAR VETS WILL HOLD PICNIC

Marion Camp No. 32, United Spanish War Veterans, will hold its annual picnic Sunday, Aug. 16, at Garfield park with a basket dinner at 11:30 a. m. A program of entertainment is scheduled for the afternoon, to which the public is invited.

The Future Farmers of America band is to give a concert in the afternoon in connection with the day's program.

J. SCHOTT ELECTED BY SUNDAY SCHOOL

Retained as Superintendent of Prospect Street Church Group.

John Schott was reelected superintendent of the Prospect Street M. E. church Sunday school at the last meeting of the Sunday school board for the conference year, last night in the church parlors.

Mrs. Karl W. Patow was elected superintendent of the junior department and George Bechtle was elected intermediate department superintendent. This is the first time that heads have been elected for these departments.

Promotion day exercises were set for Sunday, Sept. 27. No Sunday school will be conducted on Sunday, Sept. 6, because of the annual conference in Columbus at that time.

Reports of officers showed the school to be in excellent condition. Several new officers were elected last night. They include Clarence Gompf, assistant Sunday school superintendent, Carl Bechtle, pianist, and Miss Mable Midlam, assistant pianist.

Officers reelected with Mr. Schott, follow:

Fred P. Haas, secretary; Dale Hecker, assistant secretary; John Reidel, treasurer; Miss Mae Tropf, mission superintendent and treasurer; Dale Hecker, librarian; Judson Kerr, assistant librarian; Mrs. Harry Wilhelm, superintendent beginners department; Miss [illegible] Gabler, superintendent of [illegible] roll department; Miss Clara [illegible] superintendent of primary department and Miss Elizabeth [illegible] superintendent of home department. Carl Gompf was elected to distribute church bulletins for the coming conference year.

427 BOYS ENROLLED IN Y PLAYGROUNDS

Directors Get Report at Meeting at Boy Scout Camp.

427 boys are enrolled in Y. M. C. A. playgrounds at present, it was reported last night at the monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. at Camp John Reed. The report was furnished by Carl May and F. O. Hall, playground directors, and showed the average attendance at Harding and Lincoln park playgrounds to be 52 boys, and at the Willow grounds of 27.

The report detailed the work done by the playgrounds since the start of the season on June 22, and listed the improvements made. The season ends Aug. 28.

The enrollment at the Willow street ground is made up of 93 boys, including 24 in the older group and 69 in the younger boys class. At Lincoln park, there is a total of 181 boys, with 80 in the younger class and 101 in the older group. The Steam Shovel grounds has 153 enrolled, with 50 older boys and 103 younger boys.

The Lincoln park grounds have been the scene of 36 meetings, the Steam Shovel grounds 32, and Willow street 39. Cap honors have been awarded to 56 boys from Lincoln and the Steam Shovel grounds, and 29 from Willow street.

The weekly inter-playground contest Wednesday morning was cancelled because of rain and the next meet is scheduled for next Wednesday at the Central Junior High school diamonds.

FIRES DESTROY VALUABLE TIMBER

Scenes similar to this have been common in many places in Idaho, Washington and Montana this summer. Vast areas of valuable timberlands have been destroyed by fires. This picture shows flames eating into a stand of virgin timber in the Blackfoot national forest in Montana.

FAMILY REUNIONS

As in the past The Star is anxious to publish accounts of family reunions in Marion and vicinity. Due to the large number of reunions here each summer, however, it will be impossible to print lists of persons attending. Persons sending in accounts of reunions are asked to omit names of guests. Accounts should include the place of the reunion this year, next year's meeting place, officers elected and features of the program.

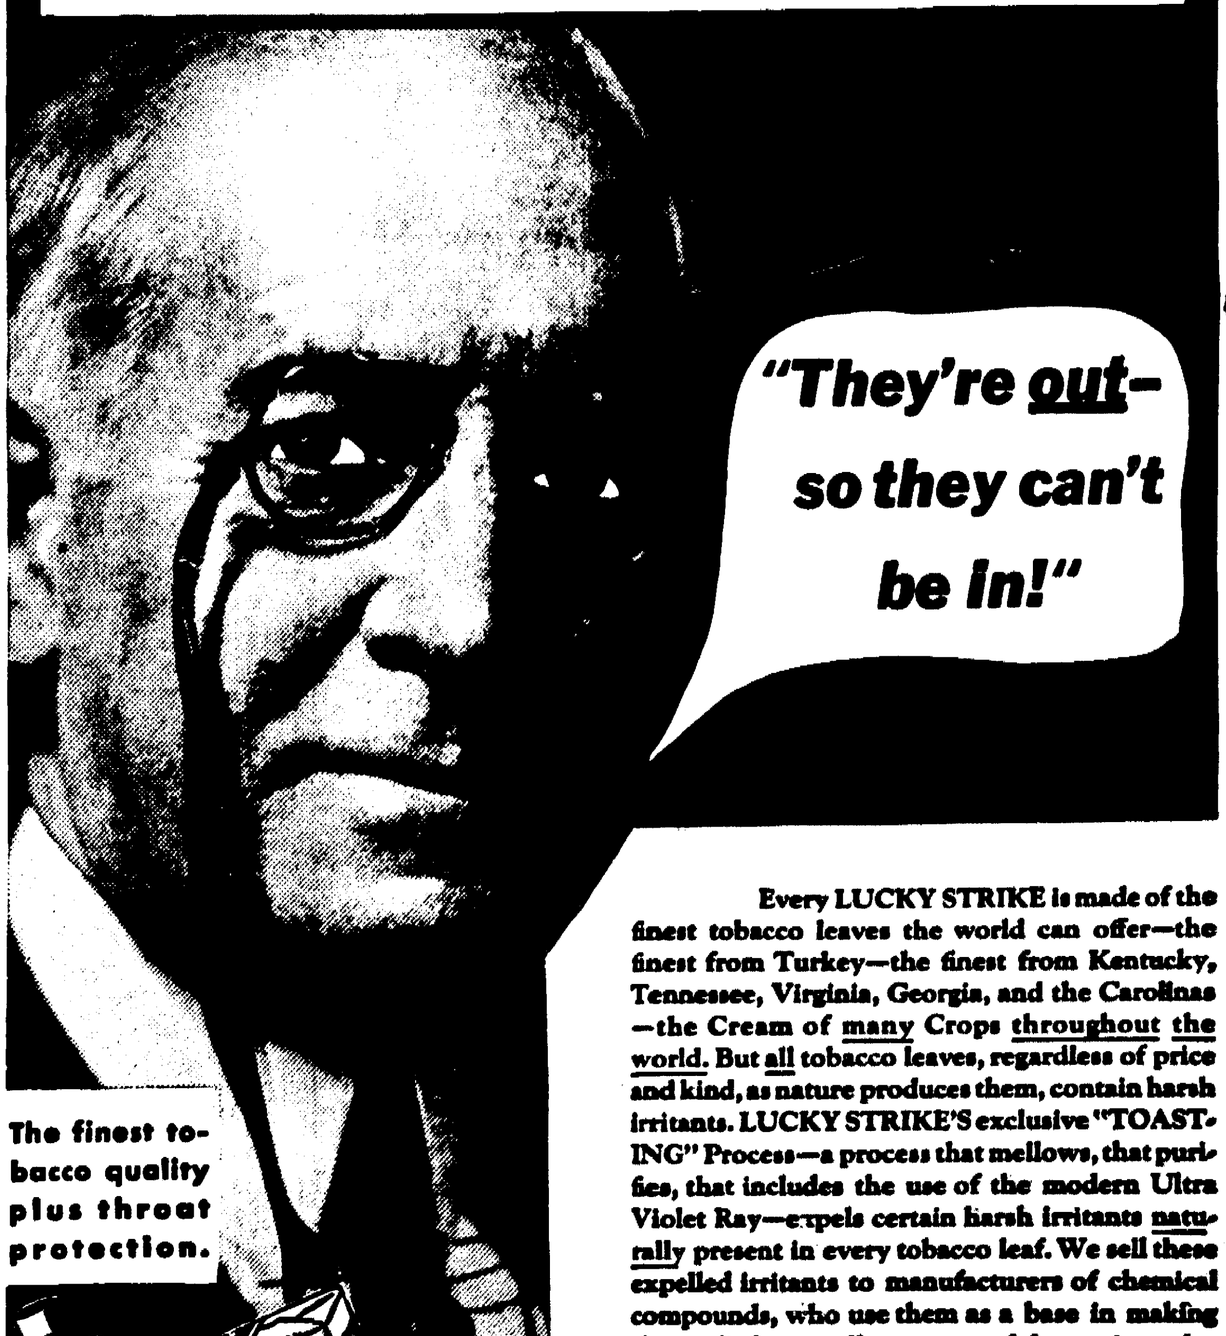
"TOASTING" expels SHEEP-DIP BASE naturally
(Black, biting, harsh irritant chemicals)
present in every tobacco leaf



Every LUCKY STRIKE is made of the finest tobacco leaves the world can offer—the finest from Turkey—the finest from Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, Georgia, and the Carolinas—the Cream of many Crops throughout the world. But all tobacco leaves, regardless of price and kind, as nature produces them, contain harsh irritants. LUCKY STRIKE'S exclusive "TOASTING" Process—a process that mellows, that purifies, that includes the use of the modern Ultra Violet Ray—expels certain harsh irritants naturally present in every tobacco leaf. We sell these expelled irritants to manufacturers of chemical compounds, who use them as a base in making sheep-dip*, as well as a powerful spraying solution for fruits, flowers and shrubs—enough to permit the daily dipping of over 50,000 sheep or the daily spraying of many thousands of trees. Thus, you are sure these irritants, naturally present in all tobacco leaves, are not in your LUCKY STRIKE. "They're out—so they can't be in!" No wonder LUCKIES are always kind to your throat.

SUIT LABELED AS BLACKMAIL

Elyria Millionaire's Lawyer Comments on Action of Minister.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 13 – A suit for $100,000 damages, charging Arthur L. Garford, 73, Elyria, O., millionaire manufacturer with alienation of affections, was labeled as "blackmail" today by Garford's attorney, King Fauver of Elyria.

Rev. A. S. Kalassay, Jr., pastor of the Elyria Hungarian Reformed church, who is author of the suit, filed yesterday in Cleveland, charged Garford caused Mrs. Kalassay to abandon him several years ago. Her present whereabouts are unknown, and there is a warrant for her arrest awaiting here, on an indictment charging embezzlement.

Fauver said Garford gave financial aid to Kalassay several times when the minister's accounts "became muddled," and that the suit's purpose was to get the millionaire to furnish $5,000 bond to get Kalassay out of jail.

The minister is charged with embezzlement of nearly $3,000 from Louis and Julia Toth, minors for whose estate he was administrator.

Less Rainfall This Year Than During 1930 Drouth

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13—Paradoxical as it may seem, it has been drier this year than last when drouth swept the country and crops are faring decidedly better.

The answer is, J. B. Kincer, weather bureau meteorologist, said today, there has been a more even distribution of moisture through the growing months.

Records show only a few states have had as much rain this year as in 1930. The agriculture department's crop report issued this week told of practically all crops being affected during July. Generous yields of the most important crops still are assured.

Rains in the last two weeks generally relieved dry conditions, Kincer said, and the prospects are that late crops will show much improvement.

This year and 1930 differ mainly, Kincer pointed out, in that a year ago rainfall was heavy during January and February after which the drouth set in. The situation was reversed this year, with January and February being extremely dry. Beginning in March, rainfall came frequently but not in substantial quantities. They were, however, sufficient to prevent a repetition of wide-spread drouth.

Club Is Raided by Dry Agents After Sheriff's Dinner Party

By International News Service

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 13—Several hours after Sheriff John M. Sulzmann played host at a dinner party to a group of visiting sheriffs federal prohibition officers raided the Idlewild club, popular dine and dance establishment, here today and arrested five men on charges of possessing liquor.

A quantity of alleged liquor was seized by the raiders. The men arrested were to be arraigned before U. S. Commissioner B. D. Nicola this afternoon. One of the men, Charles Alters, 55, gave his address as Elyria. Others said they were from Cleveland.

Operating under the name of Airport Tavern, the resort was raided a month ago by Sulzmann's deputies. The county officials closed the establishment after confiscating alleged gambling paraphernalia.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Fred C. Albers today declared the sheriff's party had seen no evidence of liquor during the time it was in the place last night. "If they had any liquor there, we didn't know it," he stated.

HOG RECEIPTS GO BELOW LAST YEAR

By United Press

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 13—Hog receipts at the seven leading markets during the last week were seven per cent less than those recorded a year ago, according to C. J. West, research director of the Ohio Farm Bureau.

West said that buyers were very selective and paid top prices only for hogs in prime condition. The common sows, he pointed out, sold for as low as $4, while the best lightweight hogs brought $8.

The range of prices, Farm Bureau figures show, was the greatest between the 200 and 300 pound weights. The market for 200 pound hogs was fairly active, but heavier hogs moved slowly.

BOARD ASKED FOR REPLY TO CHARGES

Governor Asks for Views of Optometrists to Charges.

Members of the state board of optometry who have been charged by the Ohio Newspaper Association and the Ohio Council of Retail Merchants with using their influence to prevent optometrists with advertising their services, are to have their day in court. Governor White whose aid was asked by the two organizations in removing the board, has requested that the state board furnish him at once with their side of the story.

Copies of the petition have been sent by Governor White to members of the board, of which Dr. F. A. Stengel of this city is one. Other members are Dr. W. S. Niswonger of Greenville, Dr. J. W. Briggs, of Shelby and H. Riley Spitler of Eaton.

The two oragnizations claimed the state board had adopted a resolution last May which virtually prevented optometrists from advertising their services.

Dr. Stengel had not received the communication from the governor today.

CLOUDBURST WIPES OUT FAMILY OF 3

One of Heaviest Rainstorms in Southern California History Takes Toll.

By International News Service

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Aug. 12—Southern California was today recovering from one of the worst cloudbursts in its history.

A family of three was reported to have perished in their mountain cabin near Woodford late yesterday when the rains caused a torrent to sweep down a secluded canyon of the Tehachapi mountains.

The cloudburst put telephone and telegraph lines out of commission and in some places caused suspension of railroad schedules.

At Monolith water poured into the Edison company's plant and the plant of the Portland Cement company, forcing workmen to flee for their lives.

Highways were transformed into rivers of mud near Tehachapi, Monolith and Woodford. Scores of automobiles were mired.

Oliver Goldsmith, poet and medical doctor, accidentally killed himself by overdoses of a quack remedy.

Pinchot Advocates Federal Loan to Needy During Coming Winter.

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 13—Gifford Pinchot, governor of Pennsylvania, strongly advocated government financial assistance for the unemployed during the coming winter in an address today before members of Mayor Frank Murphy's unemployment committee.

"If we can declare a moratorium to Germany, if we can recommend a loan of a billion two hundred million dollars for Germany, is there wrong in a federal loan to feed the needy in America?" Governor Pinchot.

Offers Possible Remedy

The governor discussed various plans for depression, insisting that "fundamental remedy" lay in national planning—"to substitute planned and orderly development of our resources, our productive and our institutions for the haphazard and unbalanced growth which has led to this depression."

He said that private charity could not carry a heavier load than it now bears. Public works, he said, offer a partial solution, since many states lack funds to finance such activities. Constitutional provisions prevent many states from appropriating money to relieve public distress, he said, and many states are at the limit of taxation and are unable to borrow further to help the unemployed.

"The fact is that the only power strong enough, and able to act in time to meet the new problem of the coming winter is the goernment of the United States," said Governor Pinchot. "This is a national emergency. It is a national calamity as well. The nation must help to meet it.

"I know there is a deficit in the national treasury," he said. "But I also know that the credit of the United States is good, and that the securities of the nation are always in demand. The nation can borrow the money to meet this need, if it will."

OFFICE OF DOCTOR SCENE OF TRAGEDY

Brooklyn Police Mystified by Shooting Involving Physician and Nurse.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 13—Police were puzzled today by the serious wounding of Dr. Milton Thomashefsky, Brooklyn physician, and the shooting to death last night of Agnes Birdseye, a 26-year-old nurse.

Police found the physician sprawled on the floor of his office, a bullet in his spine, and the body of the nurse nearby, a bullet hole behind her ear.

Three shots had been fired. One struck the physician and two struck the young woman. Powder burns about the wound in the nurse's head indicated to the medical examiner her wounds were self-inflicted. Police, however, were concerned as to how the three exploded shells had been ejected from the .38 calibre pistol. They said Miss Birdseye could not have performed this act after shooting herself.

The shooting took place while Philip Pines, a friend of Dr. Thomashefsky, stood at the door awaiting admittance. He heard one shot, he said, then there was a short silence followed by the second report, and soon afterward, the third.

Pines told police that last Monday night Thomashefsky awoke during the night to find he had been chloroformed and slashed, not seriously, by a knife. A note pinned nearby, said:

"Harry. We have settled our account with you."

Dr. Thomashefsky has a brother named Harry.

Pines said since the attack he had acted as a bodyguard for Dr. Thomashefsky, who expressed fear that the attack might be repeated. He said neither he nor the doctor had been able to explain the attack.

girl at the time. Arcuri, police said, refused to offer any explanation.

A report of the shooting was received by police shortly after it took place but due to the reluctance of witnesses to talk, they were unable to learn the identity of the victim until near midnight. He was located at his home on Glad street shortly before 2 a. m., Monday. Although nearly 12 hours had elapsed, his wounds had not been dressed. He was taken to police headquarters where a physician dressed the wounds which consisted of a bullet hole through the upper part of the left arm and a deep gash through the flesh of his side.

He refused to enlighten the police as to the manner in which he was shot, other than to say he was walking on west Center street about 2 p. m. Sunday when he heard a shot and felt the bullet strike his arm.

The police today were continuing their search for the missing man.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

and stains believed to be blood on wearing apparel in a shanty on wheels occupied by two illiterate brothers, a mile from the death scene.

The brothers, Paul Keene, 49, and Lawrence, 38, still were in custody. They had not accounted satisfactorily for the blood-stained club, investigators said, but neither brother can drive a car and if they were the slayers, officers could not account for the discovery of Miss Gold's purse six miles away or for the presence of a second automobile at the scene.

Investigators placed little credence in the accusations of the Negro woman, but were searching for the men she named.

Purse Arouses Speculation

Finding the purse, its contents scattered along the road as if it had been thrown from a speeding car, led some of the investigators to believe a first attack had taken place as the couples were seated in their car along a nearby road which is much frequented by "petting parties." There, according to this theory, one or both of the boys were slain and their bodies taken to the lonely road six miles away where the girls were assaulted and slain and the four bodies burned.

There were signs of a furious struggle at the roadside where the burning car was found, however, and other officers hold to the original belief that the entire tragedy was enacted there. The purse, they believe, was thrown away by the slayers as they fled toward Ypsilanti.

COTTON PLAN PUT UP TO GOVERNORS

Farm Board Says Fate of Industry Rests on Crop Destruction Proposal

this year's market of 3,000,000 bales more."

The announcement that Alexander Legge of Chicago, former board chairman, and Cason J. Calloway, of La Grange, Georgia, had been elected to the directorate of the stabilization corporation to "give added confidence" to the stabilization work, preceded the board's new proposition a few hours. The board's stabilization and cooperative organizing policies were originated while Legge was chairman of the $500,000,000 government agency.

Estimating that unless the situation be met the carry over next year will amount to 11,000,000 bales, the telegram said "this condition occurs in spite of the 10 per cent reduction in acreage last spring."

Drastic price declines, it added, would be followed by "direct disaster to cotton producing states and indirect disaster to the nation" unless abandonment could be obtained in an organized and orderly fashion. So farmers may secure a better return from the remainder of the crop.

The program would be put into effect September 1 and completed within 15 days. The attitude of the state executives was requested at once.

Almost immediately, Eugene Talmadge, Georgia commissioner of agriculture said at Atlanta, the farm board's proposal was "nothing more than a bluff."

4 OCCUPANTS OF CAR DROWN

Trapped Inside Small Sedan as It Plunges Into Creek at Toledo.

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., Aug. 13—Trapped inside a small sedan when it plunged into Swan creek last night, three women and a man were drowned while five young men who witnessed the accident made frantic efforts to save them.

A fifth occupant of the car, Mrs. Lucille Yenor, 28, of Lakeside, Mich., was saved, but was in a critical condition.

The dead were Joseph Keogh, 40, driver of the car, Mrs. Joseph Keogh, 23, Miss Tillie Schlagheck, 35, all of Toledo; and Julia Huber, 27, of Lafayette, Ind.

Mrs. Yenor recovered consciousness for a short time early today and told police Keorgh had been drinking and that the women had feared to ride with him.

Keogh had started to drive the women to Lakeside after their return from a steamer excursion on Lake Erie. He apparently became confused in his direction, for he took a dark back-road along the edge of the creek. The lights of the car had been giving trouble, and when Keogh failed to see a sharp turn, the auto plunged into the water.

Hurt badly and submerged, Mrs. Yenor was struggling to force open tre door or a window when the rescuers arrived. After she was freed from the trap, Keogh was taken out, still alive but unconscious. He died a short time later

CONGRESSMAN BRITTEN is criticised for sending the navy to Montauk, at the far end of Long Island, instead of sending the officers, as usual, to parade around Newport. Montauk is more interesting than Newport and will be a thousand times more important when it becomes the last jumping off place for airships bound for Europe and the landing place on the way back.

Officers and sailors will learn more about America, and make better real estate investments, going ashore at Montauk than they possibly could do at Newport.

The officers will be missed at fashionable Newport dances, but that isn't important.

TO ESTABLISH a new flying record in the United States is rather discouraging with Capt. Frank Hawks around. When you make a record, he comes along and breaks it. Yesterday he flew from New York to Chicago in four hours and four minutes, breaking the record by 13 minutes. Leaving New York in a drizzling rain, heavy clouds and a "low ceiling," he was on his way to Hot Springs, S. D., where the Sioux Indians will make him a big chief and give him a war bonnet.

A great flier, Capt. Hawks, probably the world's best.

THE SUGGESTION that cotton growers destroy one-third of the 1931 crop, plowing under every third row, to meet low prices caused by the government's forecast of a 15,000,000 instead of a 10,000,000 bale crop, will be rejected, undoubtedly. Cotton, fortunately, keeps indefinitely, requiring no elaborate storage. And to contemplate the destruction of such values is appalling.

CLEMENCY REFUSED ALBERT B. FALL

pointed out that the application for clemency had not been made by Fall himself, as is ordinarily required but had been submitted in his behalf "by a number of officials and citizens of New Mexico."

It was said this application nevertheless had been "given the careful and complete consideration required by the rules governing applications for pardon."

Judges Against Clemency

The three men who advised against clemency were Justice William Hitz of the District of Columbia court of appeals, who sat in judgment on Fall; Atlee Pomerene, special prosecutor for the government in the oil trials, and Leo A. Rover, U. S. attorney of the District of Columbia.

Justice Jennings Bailey of the District of Columbia Supreme court, who recently added a day to the year's sentence so Fall could serve near his home because of his health was not consulted on the application.

Justice department officials pointed out that Fall would be eligible for parole under the rules applying to all federal prisoners.

Thus his case could come before the federal parole board after serving one third of his sentence, or four months after the day he entered the New Mexico penitentiary.

VALIDITY OF PRINGLE BILL IS QUESTIONED

Wapakoneta Files Test Case To Determine Constitutionality of New Law

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 13—A test suit was filed today in state supreme court by the City Loan & Savings Co., of Wapakoneta to test the validity of the Pringle auto mobile certificate of title act.

The action was filed against Joe Moore, clerk of Portage county common pleas court, and asked a writ of mandamus and liens on bills of sale for automobiles and asked that the law be declared unconstitutional.

The suit points out that the Pringle act is effective for a period of 76 days, until Oct. 14, and claims that a jumble of confusion has resulted from it. It claimed Moore refused to comply with the act by issuing certificates of title and noting the mortgages and liens on them.

As a result, the company claimed, it may suffer the loss of its securities made on motor cars.

Moore filed a demurrer stating there was no cause of action on the part of the company and that he desired to make no further plea to the suit.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 13—With one man shot, one bruised, and two in jail, police today investigated a quarrel that started over the rules of a painters' union and ended in violence.

William Dennison, 38, was shot and slightly wounded when he and two other men, including one of the union officials, called at the home of James S. Clutter to settle a grievance, police said.

Refusing to listen to the peace offerings of his visitors, Clutter ordered them from his home and threatened them with a revolver, police were told. Dennison, William C. Thompson and M. L. Gordon, union business manager, left the house and started throwing stones at his house, Clutter said.

One of the shots Clutter fired in retaliation struck Dennison in the arm. Clutter, according to police, was hurt in a fist fight that preceded the shooting.

RESINOL HEALS SEVERE CASE OF PILES

"A few years ago my niece was ill and after being in bed several months she developed a very bad case of piles. As nothing she had used seemed to help her I advised Resinol Ointment which I had with me. After a few applications she was greatly relieved and before long was entirely healed." (Signed) Mrs. B. Beaverland, 319 Iowa St., So. Paul, Minn.

It is unnecessary to suffer from itching, bleeding, painful piles when Resinol Ointment gives such immediate relief. Many women use it regularly to relieve local itching caused by acid or irritating secretions. Free sample on request. Resinol, Dept. 91, Balto., Md. Sold by all druggists.

Daily Proverb—"He who can reply calmly to an agry man is too hard for him."

Married to her sixth husband last June, a Chicago woman is seeking a divorce. She must be out after the progressive matrimony record.

Sir Hubert Wilkins' Nautilus was in trouble twice more this week, further fortifying the growing impression that that submarine is one of the best specimens of junk ever to enter Arctic waters.

Sufficient time having elapsed to get returns from the back precincts, the reader who didn't see that promised rain of meteors Tuesday night may get consolation out of the thought that nobody else did.

Chicago experienced a rainfall of 3.84 inches, Tuesday, the heaviest there since 1885. That's an awful lot of water to fall during twenty-four hours, but then, the weatherman up there may have felt that the city could stand an awful lot of cleansing.

Crude rubber was quoted in New York, this week, at five cents a pound, the lowest quotation in the history of the rubber industry. That Dutch and British combination to corner rubber and balloon the price must have struck a snag somewhere in the great stream of world commerce.

The Hon. Gerald P. Nye, of North Dakota, lines up with his fellow-radicals in urging price-fixing for two or three years on cotton, wheat, dairy products, beef, potatoes, pork and wool and a debt holiday for farmers. The news in the story is that Gerald waited at least a week to get into line. Usually he may be found in the van of any movement looking to the changing of whatever is to whatever isn't.

August A. Busch, president of Anheuser-Busch, Inc., raises the figures of the congressman, who claims that legalizing light wines and beer would give 1,000,000 men employment, to 1,250,000 men. Since the thing is wholly one of speculation and doesn't consider the number of rum-runners, blind-tiger keepers and bootleggers who would be thrown out of jobs, why can't these gentlemen be a little more generous in their estimates and wipe out the entire unemployment situation?

One hundred years ago Sunday, the DeWitt Clinton pulled out of Albany for the first run over the seventeen-mile trip to Schenectady, which proved to be the first successful operation of a passenger train in the United States. The clothing of some of the passengers caught fire from the sparks from the engine and the cars jolted so badly that the passengers jammed fence rails between them to serve as bumpers. Rail transportation has come along quite a bit in 100 years.

Venturing into Alien Fields.

In commenting editorially on the action of the Young Men's Christian association in taking up at its recent world conference in Cleveland the question of World war guilt, the Detroit Free Press very truly remarks that the "debate added nothing to the public's knowledge of the question" and that the final vote "will have about as much effect on history as if it had been taken by a city council."

If our interpretation of the thought of the Free Press is correct, fault is not found with the result of the vote, but rather with the action of the association in going outside its proper province and committing itself to one side of a question that obviously has two sides.

"The association is not maintained to settle the affairs of nations," is the sage observation of the Free Press. "The purpose to which it is dedicated is to encourage men to lead Christian lives, without regard to race, creed or color. Any such adventure into mundane controversy, as that taken in Cleveland, works against the unity and unanimity which should prevail in an organization consecrated to the ideal of the brotherhood of man." And the Free Press concludes with the observation that the Young Men's Christian association will be lucky if its incursion into the question of war guilt does not detract from its prestige.

While it will not serve as justification, it may be said that the Young Men's Christian associaton had precedent for its action. It is a present-day tendency of organizations to enter into controversial fields into which judgment should preclude entrance, and the result has generally proved unfortunate, usually working to lessen the influence of the organizations so venturing. This lessened influence has been attributed to many factors—the social disorganization worked by the war, the relaxation from established principles and ways resultant therefrom, the false boom following the war with its orgy of spending, the fast pace at which we of today are living, the automobile, prohibition and scores of less important factors—but the tendency of organizations designed to work along religious lines to enter into matters entirely foreign to religion may probably be set down as the chief of all of them in working to a recession of their influence.

Light on Alien Deportation Report.

Some light has been thrown on the virulence of the report of the Wickersham commission on the enforcement of the alien deportation laws by John B. Trevor, chairman of the American Coalition of Patriotic Societies with headquarters at 598 Madison avenue, New York City.

It will be recalled that the report charged immigration officials and operatives of the department of labor with "practices comparable to the ruthless cruelty and inhuman despotism of the dark ages" in their system of deporting aliens, and declared that "unconstitutional, tyrannic and oppressive methods often are employed, when many persons are separated permanently from their families in violation of the plainest dictates of humanity." The report, it was stated at the time of its publication, was based largely on the findings of Reuben Oppenheimer, a Baltimore attorney, and was signed by nine of the eleven members of the commission, two members having refused to subscribe their names to it.

"I have been advised," a letter written by Mr. Trevor and addressed to George W. Wickersham, chairman of the commission reads, "and I would welcome correction if I have been misinformed, that Mr. Oppenheimer is in fact now listed as one of the lawyers who have volunteered their services to the American Civil Liberties union for the handling of cases in which that organization is interested. What that means, of course, to all those of us who look upon the immigration problem from a national standpoint needs no more comment than a reference to the observations made upon the activities of that body in the report of the special committee of the house of representatives to investigate Communist activities in the United States."

The writer asserts that Mr. Oppenheimer's conclusions appear to have been based on a study of 453 cases selected from the department of labor's files, although the department in the year from which the records were selected investigated 112,722 cases. Making reference to the suggestion of Mr. Oppenheimer that every alien be advised by immigration officials examining him that "you are not obliged to say anything unless you wish to do so, but whatever you say may be used against you," the comment in the Trevor letter was that if such requirements were written into the law, "it would require a man with the qualifications of a justice of the supreme court to avoid a breach of the statute and accomplish a successful deportation of an astute crook defended by one of the shysters who now disgrace the American bar."

Mr. Trevor further wrote that the recommendation of the attorney in question, adopted by the commission, to set up a board of alien appeals with broad powers of discretion, before which the department of labor would appear as prosecutor, would "nullify the mandatory character of the present deportation statutes," and would "curtail the ability of the United States to rid itself of illegal entries, criminals and the generally undesirable aliens."

The foregoing excerpts from the letter of the chairman of the coalition of patriotic societies have been offered to show the trend of the communication, but in the absence of correction of the linking of the Baltimore attorney with the Civil Liberties union—and ample time for correction has elapsed—that linking should explain to all patriotic Americans the unusual character of the report, discredit its fairness to the department of labor, and generaly nullify any weight it might otherwise have carried.

Premature First Aid.

The relief faction in congress threatens to apply first aid before the accident. Already it is talking of $100,000,000 to be appropriated for direct relief in the coming winter, in addition to congressional support that will be asked for every measure promising indirect relief through employment.

The intentions of these gentlemen who are going after money to put the United States through a hard winter would look better if they were setting about their work quietly. As it is, they put themselves in the unheroic posture of one who shouts: "Boys, it's going to be a dreadful experience, but I'll save you. Hurry, so I can do my act."

No one is kidding himself about the prospects for the coming winter. There is going to have to be cooperation to keep people from getting cold and hungry. Likewise, no one is kidding himself about the cooperation. When it's needed, it will be forthcoming. A federal dole, dress it in any guise, is certainly not a manifestation of cooperation.

There was a struggle against it last winter, and its foes are prepared to continue it. The administration no longer has a nominal majority to uphold it in congress, but it still has its convictions. Until the nation's capacity for self-help is utterly exhausted, until citizens admit that they no longer can share their resources with the unfortunate, until each state government abdicates—there should be no wholesale distribution of federal money for relief.

There is this fact that can not be repeated too often: the federal treasury must not become, in any sense, a national charitable institution. Distribution of federal funds for relief, except in the most extreme cases, would commit the treasury to this dangerous policy.

The nation is to witness the administration being attacked from all sides by treasury raiders seeking to turn economic necessity to their own political advantage. The plan is to impose a staggering load on the administration, blame it for the inevitable deficit that would result, and take credit at the same time for the legislation which caused the deficit. Sensible people will see the joker in this plan, and discourage it by their disapproval.

The roof gardens of New York's "Radio City" are to rival those of old Babylon, according to a news story from the American metropolis. Let's see! What happened to Babylon when it went in to outdo the world in luxury?

Investigation has demonstrated that only one person in fifty in Chicago pays a personality tax. It's not a good showing for the honesty of Chicago's citizenship, but there is this to be said for the people up there; they are hardly able to know one day what they will possess in the way of personality the next. Things certainly have a way of changing hands up there.

SHORTS FOR UNCLE SAM.

Editorial Opinion.

CASE OF INSECTS VS. PEOPLE.

An article in Science by Frank E. Lutz, curator of the department of insect life in the American Museum of Natural History, entitled "Insects vs. People," will be taken by most people as a welcome reassurance, after reading the stories that have recently appeared from other writers about the danger of the human race being starved in a world swept of vegetation by swarms of voracious insects suddenly produced by some turn in their life conditions.

Insects do not cooperate, and a descent by them en masse upon man is inconceivable. On the contrary, they are constantly at war among themselves, and scientific control of insect pests depends upon this fact and man's ability to turn an insect enemy loose upon an insect pest.

But Mr. Lutz's article is chiefly interesting and reassuring in that he takes the case of "Insects vs. People" and shows that insects, in spite of the fact that many of them damage vegetation on which man depends for food, on the whole contribute to the process of vegetation far more than the damage they do to man's agricultural operations.

The agency that flying insects take in pollenation of blossoms that are not self-pollenating is obvious, but Mr. Lutz goes into the vast ramification of this work of the insects and shows that we are indebted to this insect work for vast numbers of species and varieties of plants that are of value to man.

Most people are familiar with the work of earth worms in making that thin layer of the surface of the ground which we call the soil such that it will support vegetation; but Mr. Lutz shows that earth beetles and other ground insects are vastly more beneficial in preparing the soil than are the ordinary earth worms. Indeed, in view of the fact that all man's food comes from the soil, insects would seem to be man's sine qua non.—Columbus Ditspatch.

THE TROUBLES OF SPAIN.

The perfect revolution in Spain, as Senor Zamora called it, continues to reveal imperfections. The country remains in a ferment. In the first place, there are the labor troubles. They are obviously very serious. Strikes leading to bloodshed are common. Large masses of working people are infected with the virus of Communism. The government is having great difficulties in maintaining public order. The financial situation goes from bad to worse with the steady fall of the peseta. Then there is the Catalan problem, for which no solution has yet been found. The divergence between Madrid and Barcelona is becoming greater rather than less. Apparently nothing but a degree of autonomy practically indistinguishable from independence will satisfy the Catalan leaderes.

Nor has the situation been improved by the decision of the Cortes commission which is dealing with a new constitution to expel all religious orders and confiscate all church property. The Radical Socialist minority is strongly in favor of this. What would be the reaction of the Spanish people as a whole to such a measure? It is true that the church has property which might be distributed among the peasants, but would they really benefit in the end by such an injustice? Religion has a strong hold upon the body of the people, and persecution might make it even stronger.

The leader of the Conservatives believes that the net result of all the agitation will be the return of King Alfonso. There are no immediate signs that this would be possible. But so far Spain has gained nothing by his withdrawal.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Start Baby Right.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Nothing is more fascinating than to watch the growth and development of a baby. From birth onward it is an interesting study.

The first year presents many trials and tribulations. It is a most important time, for during this period the baby grows rapidly. It undergoes the change from a helpless infant into a baby that laughs, plays, stands, tries to walk and talk.

In addition to growing, the child learns to eat and sleep at regular intervals. It learns how to hold up its head, to sit up, to stand and eventually to walk. Surrounding objects are of great interest to the youngster who is inquisitive and anxious to get hold of things.

At one year of age, the average baby weighs three times the weight at birth. This is approximately twenty-one pounds. Twenty-seven to twenty-eight inches is the measure in height.

At twelve months, baby's chubbiness is replaced usually, by a lengthening of the body. Some children remain plump at this period, while others grow tall, not gaining greatly in weight. It has been said, and truthfully so, that no two babies grow exactly alike.

At this age, the baby as a rule has been weaned. It has learned to take cow's milk and various solid foods. Now it should be able to hold a cup in the hands and be familiar with the uses of a spoon.

A great mistake most mothers make at this age is to continue treating the child as an infant. It is entering upon the period of early childhood and should not be treated as a baby.

Encourage the child to be independent. Of course, the child should be taught and helped. No better training can be encouraged than to have the child at an early age learn to do things on its own account.

Feeding and dressing alone, picking up toys and other objects from the floor, learning to pull off the stockings at bedtime and playing alone—all these aid in the development of independence.

A child gifted with the virtue of independence will face the future problems and battles of life with greater ease. It is a quality which will grow more valuable with the years.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES.

H F. Q—What do you advise for loose sore teeth?

A—Consult your dentist for treatment.

M.M.S. Q—What would cause a headache upon awakening in the morning and after eating?

A—Probably due to some intestinal upset, auto-intoxication, constipation, etc. For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

E.P. Q—What do you advise for reducing?

A—Eat very sparingly of starches, sugars and fats. Get regular systematic exercise. A gradual reduction in the amount of food consumed, with the regular exercise will work wonders in most cases.

A.S. Q—Can superfluous hair be removed?

A—Yes. When the electric needle is properly used there is little scarring of the skin, but it must be employed by an expert. On the whole it is safer than the X-ray, and gives permenent relief. Sometimes a bleach will help to make the hair less noticeable.

F.F.B. Q—Are soft drinks harmful to the body?

A—Not if taken in moderation.

What Will Better Marion?

The following is the answer of one citizen to the question, "What Will Better Marion?"—the second in the questionnaire circulated by Dr. Carl W. Sawyer to get a comprehensive insight into the community feeling regarding our home city, in the hope of arriving at a remedy, for handicaps, if any, from which Marion may suffer. From day to day, answers of various citizens to the same question will be given publicity on this page.

If the farmers can have a good season and raise good heavy crops this year, I am sure that Marion and every other town will be bettered in more than one way. I also have a lot of faith in what Miss Pleasants said: "If all of us would follow the Golden rule, every one would be more prosperous and happy."

I think that more people should go to church a little more often and learn not to believe in the worst, but to think that the best is sure to come, regardless of the present condition or what any few people do or say.

I think that if we would do this we would be more ready to give those down and out the helping hand instead of pushing them farther down. This, in turn, would help to better conditions that a little bit.

"Temperance" Drinks in Britain.

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON.

Adulteration is one of the many temptations to which human beings yield, and have yielded from the beginning of time. Adulteration used to be amazingly easy to perpetrate and extremely difficult to detect. You might guess—even know—that your food, your drink, were adulterated. But the question was to prove it. And that is where science came in.

For instance let us take some illustrations from the work of the British government laboratory, which stands in London in a narrow passage just west of the Law court and within a few yards of the eastern end of the Strand. Here chemical tests of every conceivable kind are made, to detect adulteration, fraud, deception, forgery, tampering with accounts, testing sea-water for the proportion of salt, and many other things.

One of the most important duties is that of testing whisky, brandy, beer and other spirituous and intoxicating beverages. Brandy, whisky, spirits of various kinds, beer, stout and ale are all tested for the amount of alcohol in them, as the duty is proportioned to the amount of alcohol. Various drugs, scents, varnishes, medicines, tonics, photographic developers, and what not, contain alcohol. Sometimes as many as 100 samples of drugs and scents are dealt with in this laboratory in a single day.

When it comes to beer, the test for specific gravity is made by means of an instrument known as the saccharometer. The number of analyses and examinations of beer alone, made in the excise branch, runs to many thousands yearly. Sample of "wort," that is, beer before fermentation, are constantly being tested to check the declaration of gravity made by the brewer, which is called the "original gravity." For it is upon this "original gravity" that duty is levied. Years ago beer was frequently diluted heavily with water. But brewers can no longer get by with this. This test is easy to make; and brewers have been discouraged from attempting this mean swindle by the imposition of heavy fines.

The investigation of ginger beer or, as we call it, ginger ale, have been surprising in their results. Ginger beer, herb—or root—beer, and similar temperance—soft—drinks are allowed under the law two per cent. of proof spirit. It is not uncommon to find two per cent. of alcohol; and in some of these drinks there is found as much as four per cent. Ginger beer of this last type is more intoxicating than an ordinary light beer made from hops. It is very clear then why there should be such a careful check upon drinks of all sorts, even those labeled temperance drinks'—Copyright, 1931, International Feature Service, Inc.

When Ohio "Got Money from Home."

BY J. H. GALBRAITH.

The United States came into existence with a heavy debt, the result of the hard struggle for independence, which it took years to pay off. For the first time the young nation found itself with no debt and a surplus accruing in the treasury in 1834 under the administration of Andrew Jackson. The condition was helpful in the reelection of that president, and in 1836 congress authorized the distribution of that surplus among the states. The total of almost $30,000,000—a very large sum for those days—and Ohio received as her share a little over $2,000,000. It was ostensibly a loan to the states, but the government never required its return.

Ohio distributed her share to the counties of the state on the basis of their population, but it was given the counties merely as a loan, the stipulation being that it should be returned to the state treasurer in 1850. In the meantime, the counties were to pay the state interest at the rate of six per cent—this interest to be turned into the school fund. Most of the counties paid back their loans to the state with reasonable promptness, but some of them delayed, and it was many years before the last of the loans was repaid. The last to make payment was Highland county. She paid in 1875.

It was a lucky windfall for Ohio which was at the time laboring under a heavy debt, the cost of the construction of her canals, and the entire sum was finally applied to the discharge of that debt. It is believed that this is the only instance in which a taxation authority declared a dividend to the tax paying units. Ohio accepted her share of the distribution from the federal government by act passed December 19, 1836, and by act of March 28, 1837, loaned the funds to the county. Joseph Vance was then governor of the state.

English Cooking Poor.

BY O. O. M'INTYRE.

London, Aug. 13—As Broadway means New York to America so does the Strand mean London to the English. Every hour of the forlorn day in those lonely outposts where the empire has sent its flag-peggers—Canada, Africa, India and Australia—men are dreaming of the Strand. It is the symbol of the empire.

Like Broadway it has become cheap and vaguely disappointing. Yet no street in all London offers such an exulting flair as the shop windows betoken romance. Even as they are with pith helmets, compasses, sun pads, veld shirts, puttees and jaunty cummerbund belts.

We set out this morning in a thin drizzle to wander along this curiously old and narrow Victorian highway. Crazily-patched motor buses were bobbing with umbrellas. Costermongers women were shouting their leather, hawkers held out their matches, toys and sundry knick-knacks. Tawdry, yet appealing.

Where lines of traffic converge at Charing Cross a one-armed silhouette cutter sought our patronage by pointing to his placard pasted with illustrious—Lloyd George, the Prince of Wales and Laddie Cliff. I was anxious to see how he executed his art so handicapped.

So we stopped. Placing a sheet of black paper between his teeth he inspected us a few seconds and with sharp manicure like scissors began to snip away and in no time at all had my wife and me in profile—dancing side by side in a typical morning matinee. He charged a six-pence.

In a drug store near what was once the old Hotel Cecil, but is now an office building, a window card proclaimed: "Real American soda." And it was not only real and tasty but the jerker was fresh—O, very fresh—from a chain drug store near the Grand Central.

Naturally we wound up our prowl at Simpson's. Like the Cafe de la Paix one is supposed to see everybody at Simpson's at lunch. I saw only Thomas Burke. The charm of the place is in the service. Roasts are trundled up on huge silver-topped bogeys and deft carving by John Bulls, come to life, is done before your eyes.

I am unable to do a nip-up over British cooking. To me it is heavy, unpalatable and flat. My only satisfying meal here was in the spirit of a lark. "Bucky" Taylor took me to a little tavern seemingly lost in the mews near Knights' bridge. There was a soup of ox tails, a steak and kidney pie, a salad and Yorkshire pudding. The patrons were almost solely butlers, valets, grooms and other servants who came there on nights off. The proprietor today incidentally runs a two-floored place on Oxford circus—a place frequented by the Picadilly toffs. Swank.

London's aristocratic streets now have neat brass signs heralding: "American dentists." And I am told they have the biggest and most exclusive practices in the city. British teeth suffer from chemical reaction of the water and the American dentist has been the most successful in coping with it. But we don't suppose they can do much about those British buck teeth.

After lunch I strolled to Whitehall to glimpse the guards in horse-tail hats, idled on Cockspur street, watched the pigeons around the Nelson monument in Trafalgar, picked up a Burberry raincoat with a white leather belt trala in Haymarket and then set off in a taxi for Houndsditch.

Hounsditch with its blowzy denizens and array of dank pubs is to me one of the fascinating stretches in London's multiplicity of human habitations. Its name came from the fact it was a burial ground for dogs in Pepys time. In days of cabbies it was their rendezvous. Today taxi drivers, busmen and private chauffeurs have taken it over and it is a-jostle with Cockney haranguing and blimey bickering. These are types of the Hogarth unlovely etchings whose pleasantries are acrimonious but only a gesture—a bit of chaff.

In departing all high-hatted and spruce for the theater I stopped before a window mirror in the horse shoe court of the Savoy to cop a final peek at my get up. "Ain't he purty?" yelled some one across the driveway. But I took no notice. Undoubtedly one of those "vul-gah Aw-meerikans."

And after theater I half promised Tommy Watson and a group of Fleet Streeters to run down to Epsom tomorrow. That's where the blades sport cream-colored high hats, braided coats and shoulders strung with binoculars. Very pip-pip. Quite.—Copyright, 1931, McNaught Syndicate, Inc.

A Washington Daybook.

BY HERBERT PLUMMER.

Washington, Aug. 13—Representative Edgar Howard, that seventy-three-year-old veteran of the house from Nebraska describes himself as a "free Democrat."

Patriarchial in appearance, he prides himself on his likeness to the late William Jennings Bryan. His facial characteristics strongly resemble those of "The Commoner."

His rich growth of hair—of which he is extremely proud—hangs almost to his shoulders. Except for necessary trimmings, he boasts that it has not been cut since 1900.

A member of the house since 1922, Howard has a reputation among his colleagues for an abiding sense of humor and the ability to wisecrack in telling fashion.

Rarely he is solemn and he almost never takes himself seriously. The house can be in the midst of the gravest discussion, and he will rise and make an observation which throws the members into laughter.

They like to hear him talk. They enjoy his attempts to ridicule anything and anybody.

He is capable of clothing his jibes in the choicest language. Thus one day when Hawley, chairman of the ways and means committee, had come to the defense of the treasury on tax refunds in a long and involved speech, Howard undertook to dress him down a bit.

The manner in which he did it was characteristic.

"The only redeeming thing—of Hawley's speech—" said Howard, "was one effulgent gem in the tiara of misery resting upon the brow of our Hawley while in the act of defending the indefensible—the gem of remembrance of him at all times when he is not engaged in effort to perform impossible miracles."

Already a four-termer and elected for a fifth in the house, Howard frankly admits his real love is the life of a newspaper editor. Often does he remark:

"I am holding contemporaneously the higher office of editor of a country town newspaper."

He was once reporter and city editor of a newspaper in Dayton, Ohio. At present he owns his own newspaper in Columbus, Nebraska.

World of Invention.

Poland has spruce forests estimated to cover 1,900,000 acres.

Snap springs instead of straps hold packages on a new carrier for bicycles.

An Englishman has invented a golf club with a hole in its head to pick up balls.

A cigaret case and lighter have been combined to save a smoker carrying two articles.

An Indiana man has invented a cutting tool to be drawn through sewers to sever tree roots.

More than fifty per cent. of Japan's total population is engaged in some form of agriculture.

To Revive Old Favorites in WABC Program

In addition to her "memory song," which is a regular feature of her daily program, Kate Smith will go back a few years to bring "When Day Is Gone" and "Hallelujah" from "Hit the Deck" to her listeners during her broadcast over the WABC-Columbia network at 7:00 p. m. Thursday.

Digging deep into her collection of old-time favorites Kathryn Parsons, popularly known as the "Girl O' Yesterday," has selected the following numbers to be included in her broadcast over the WABC-Columbia network at 5:30 p. m. Thursday: "She Was Bred in Old Kentucky," "When the Robins Nest Again," "Throw Him Down, McCloskey," "Daisy Bell," "The Volunteer Organist" and "On San Francisco Bay."

The Boswell Sisters — Connie, Martha and Vet, have made a unique arrangement of "Shine On, Harvest Moon" which they will sing in "that Boswell manner" as the highlight of their broadcast over the WABC-Columbia network at 8:45 p. m. Thursday. The song, now being revived in the current Ziegfeld Follies, was first popularized more than a decade ago by Norma Bayes and Jack Norworth.

Welcome Lewis, low-pitched contralto, hopes she will voice the sentiments of her listeners when she offers "Sing Another Chorus, Please" as the vocal feature of the Melody Girl broadcast over the WABC-Columbia network at 9:15 Thursday. She will also sing "Faithfully Yours" and "In the Merry Month of Maybe."

DRY DECOY?

Employment of a 19-year-old girl as a decoy by a federal dry agent at Buffalo, N. Y., has been revealed by the girl herself following an automobile crash in which the girl, Ruth Callahan (above), was injured. Ruth declares she was intoxicated on government purchased liquor when the accident occurred and has promised to "tell all" about the "decoy business," in which she alleges she was to get $10 for every piece of evidence which would lead to a raid.

Unusual Features Included in Program for 1932 Lecture-Recital Club Season

AN unusually interesting outline of the 1931-32 program of the Marion Lecture-Recital club, has been prepared by the board, headed by Mrs. John F. Lacey, president

Attractive features of the program include evenings when Ray McClintock, New York tenor who appeared here last spring, will sing, when Mrs. D E Winterowd of Findlay, winner of the contralto solo contest at the Lima eisteddfod this year will appear in a group of songs and when Robert Horak of Akron, prodigy of Herman Roser will appear on the juvenile program.

Oberlin Trio

An outstanding program will be that given by the Oberlin conservatory faculty trio on March 28. The trio made a tremendous impression here 10 years ago and this is the first occasion that their engagements have permitted a return to Marion.

Nason Oldham, a prominent tenor of Columbus and nephew of Mrs. Eugene Moore of Bellefontaine avenue, will sing Feb. 8 on a double program with the Indian Village trio of Upper Sandusky. The trio members, Helen Stecher, Helen Denman and Marian Moser, with their accompanist, Florence McEldowny are well known to the fans of WAIU in Columbus. Their name was derived from the Indian lore which surrounds Upper Sandusky.

Mrs. Emma Uhler Voorhees, third vice president of the board, is in charge of the sale of patron tickets which was inaugurated this week

The season opens Oct. 13 with a program at First Presbyterian church, in conjunction with the opening of the central district meeting of the Ohio Federation of Women's clubs. Mr. McClintock will appear as guest artist. He studied at Fontainebleau recently and has been with the National Broadcasting Corp., appearing in the presentations of the Recitalists, the Twelve O'Clock Trio and the Twilight Hour.

Findlay Artist

Mrs Winterowd of Findlay will be the guest entertainer on the evening of Oct. 26 and the Newark Music club considered one of the talented music groups of the state will appear on the program with her

Robert Horak, 10 the Akron, O prodigy and protege of Herman Roser is to be here He won the stitute of Music He will appear on Nov 23 when the juvenile department presents its first program to the senior club

The annual Christmas gift program will be presented on Dec 14

junior prize at the Ohio Federation of Music clubs convention in Cincinnati this year and was awarded a scholarship to the Cleveland In

DIRECTS CLUB

MRS. JOHN F. LACEY

Activities of the Marion Lecture-Recital club in its coming season will be guided by Mrs. Lacey, president, and her board. Mrs. Lacey announced the program today which includes several features new to Lecture-Recital club affairs. Mrs. Lacey was named to the presidency of the club following the resignation of Mrs. J Malcolm Strelitz this spring. Her home is at 562 Windsor street.

you can dance with we. I've something to tell you '

She obeyed almost automatically "I'll dance with you now," she said to Adrian on his return.

Bobby Cranshaw cut in on Adrian and Kirk cut in on Bobby Kirk danced with Juanita to the door, opened it. A voice called, "Look out, Lochinvar! You'll both get wet!" It was Dick Preston, dancing with the marquesa. The marquesa did not even look at them Kirk saw her draw from Dick's arm and begin to dance alone. In her vivid orange dress flinging arms above her head, catching at her skirt, she looked like some brightly painted automaton

Kirk guided Juanita to the veranda rail. He drew her against him. "Now breathe a little," he said. "Was the party threatening to get too wild?"

She did not answer, but her eyes moved to him with a half frightened, half-questioning look. "You aren't used to wild parties are you, Juanita? . . . I wonder why that makes me want to fight somebody for you This one's not going to be anything I know what they've got in there—in the way of bottles, I mean"

"Let's take a car and ride away somewhere," Juanita begged.

"Why, of course" Kirk said with a glance at the sky

They took Dick Preston's coupe "Dick won't care," said Kirk There was a riding crop in the car, and a green cape

"Phyllis' He came with Phyllis," said Kirk musingly, as they turned into the road "Wonder who brought Naida. Trigger, I reckon. . . . You believe in people having dates with folks beside their husband? It makes me nervous to think about it You won't treat me that way, will you, Juanita?" Huskily murmured banter as they took the road between the angry black sea and the still, black woods Kirk laid his hand over Juanita's smiling into her face

"Will you, Juanita?"

Big drops suddenly pelted the glass about them Through the dark they could see the black waves spitting froth Kirk stopped the car, drew Juanita against his side

"Quit watching the lightning," he said "You ought to be afraid"

"I love storms," she whispered as the thunder crashed above the boom of the sea All at once to Kirk she seemed a part of it He realized that he had indeed a small bit of the storm in the car with him crushed against his side Or was she—he smiled at the fancy a thing bred in the storm driven by it, sheltered here for a moment, presently to fly on?

"Paloma," he said softly, "La paloma"

She laid her other hand over his "Why do you call me that? Do you know what it means?"

"Do you doubt my Spanish?" he enquired "Paloma means dove For me it means anything beautiful with wings Doves and angels and you"

"With wings?"

"You have wings, Juanita. Maybe not dove's or angel's, but I know you are plotting right now to use them."

She shook her head still in the circle of his arm She looked down at his hand between both of hers The rain was coming hard now

Juanita's voice was low.

"Do you believe—the things they said about that girl?"

"What girl?" he asked.

"The one in Divitt's Parlors"

Kirk laughed, tightening his arm. "Do I believe? What difference does it make?"

"Do you?"

"Why, I never thought about it' Then suddenly, "Was that what was the matter with you—what they said about the Moon?"

"The men did not deny—that they knew her intimately"

"That was horrid of them"

She lifted her face not looking at him. "You mean that, even though it was true, they should have denied. You believe it was true"

"But if it is what does one expect of a girl in that place?" Kirk said, not at all desirous of discussing other women with Juanita.

"She may be there unwillingly," Juanita said

"She may at that," he agreed, but she felt the smile that his words came through

"You denied," she said hotly. "And now—now you are as bad as the rest"

"I denied because she has hardly looked at me, or I at her," Kirk, forced into seriousness, replied "You aren't yourself, Juanita. If she lives there with that gang, is taking Ledbetter to her room anything to start a war over? Unwillingly—maybe—at the start. All of them have fantastic tales about how they began But why should she stay, if she's unwilling? The place has doors. I won't say I haven't thought about her—"

"You've thought about her?"

"Not as you suppose," quickly "She has no attraction for me But I've wondered rather curiously whether it's Divitt's clever advertising of her or her own gifts as a seductress that fill Divitt's Parlors"

"And you didn't like her?" Juanita's voice was grave

"Not at all" Now he knew the reason for her questioning Bless her heart! "I never liked anything but you I never loved anything but you.

"That's it smile But it's true"

"You never had a sweetheart?"

"Plenty'

"Then you've been in love"

"Probably'

"But you said "

"I said I had never loved any one but you It's true"

"I'd rather you were in love with me'

'I am If you love a girl you're in love with her But if you're merely in love with her you don't always love her'

She was smiling still Kirk held her close and kissed her until he knew she had forgotten all the jealous doubt

At last he said, "Tell me what you had to tell me- in the library"

She answered in a low voice "Not now. I can never tell you now"

"All right. You don't need to I know it already."

'What do you know?"

'Everything The marquesa told Madame Fouche"

Jubilee's Pardner

A Story of Humorous Boyhood Adventure

By JUDD MORTIMER LEWIS

A BOY misses a lot of things by having to go to the pasture with a couple of dummed brutes. When I woke up this morning and tumbled Jubilee out of bed and rasseled with him a while and then let him down by his rope and went down and milked the cow and her dotter and took them to the pasture and stopped for a swim and a game of ball, my grandfather had a fight all over our front yard. He went up to town to get him some smoking tobacco and whilst he was up there he met another man about as old as him, and they were telling each other some good ones, and the man believed everything my grandfather told him till my grandfather told him about the lightning melting the holes in the water pitcher, and he said my grandfather was spoofing him about that, so he came home with my grandfather and my grandfather took the pitcher out to show it to him, and when he saw it he said anyone could melt holes in glass; so then my grandfather told him to come inside and ast my mother, and the man said my mother would probably tell the same story my grandfather told, so then my grandfather made a pass at him and missed him, and then the man made a pass at my grandfather and missed him, then my grandfather turned around and bent over to set the pitcher on the step so it wouldn't get ruined, and the other man kicked him so that he tipped over and bumped his head on the step, and the other old man was so tickled that he laughed as hard as he could laugh, and while he was laughing my grandfather got him by the whiskers and went dragging him around the yard, and my mother said the language they used was offal. She said the other man was as bad as my grandfather. If he was as bad as my grandfather he must have been good. My mother said they acted like a couple of young roosters instead of two respectable old men. So then she told my ant to go out and tell them she had foamed for some policemen and the policemen were coming; so then they stopped and the other old man went sailing down the street with my grandfather leaning over the fence and dasting him to come back.

Frenchy said that when he went home to get some eats my ant came over there and asted for his father. She said she wanted to find out what my mother had to get to go with the barbecue, but Frenchy told her his father had went fishin. Then my ant washed all the dishes and swept the house and got Frenchy some dinner. He said if it wasn't for her wanting to wash a fella all the time she wouldn't be so bad. Younisses folks came over after supper and I got sent to bed because I got in the middle of the floor to show them how I could stand on my head, and I fell over with my feet in my ant's lap. My ant told me to stop showing off.

"Heart of a Wife"

BY ADELE GARRISON

Despite His Disapproval of One, Veritzen Praises Madge's Play.

"I CANNOT understand," Philip Veritzen said meditatively "where you got your conception of this clown, Vickers. Your other characters are flesh and blood, but this fellow can be safely worshiped according to the old Biblical rule, for he is like nothing that "is in Heaven above, or the earth beneath, or the water under the earth"

His lips curved in a whimsical grin which softened somewhat the harsh criticism which he had just made. I felt like hysterical laughter myself at the fantastic irony of what he had just said. Dicky had objected to the character because he had recognized, as I had, that I subconsciously had made Vickers a caricature of himself. And Philip Veritzen had said that the character resembled no one in the world

Veritzen Didn't See

I told myself that, with a faint light glimmering through my depression, the great producer had not comprehended my unconscious caricature of Dicky. That would have been something I could not have endured, although I really had not counted the risk of recognition by Mr. Veritzen very great. He did not know Dicky sufficiently well to see the likeness which I knew any intimate of Dicky's could not help recognizing. True, Lillian had typed the entire third act from my dictation without seeing that I had unconsciously caricatured my husband, but I knew that while she had been able to appraise the thing as a whole, she had been too absorbed in the mere mechanics of the typing to analyze the traits of the characters. With a paean of thankfulness that I had been spared the humiliation of having Lillian recognize what I had done, I grimly resolved that even if it cost me another night's labor, I would rewrite the act, leaving out Vickers, before Lillian should see it again.

Not Temperamental

My whole mental tempo should have been one of joyous relief at the fortunate outcome which had released me from the burden of the character so offensive to Dicky. But though I really was thankful I had been spared the unpleasant task of telling Philip Veritzen that Vickers must be eliminated, I could not help feeling an inconsistent pique that a character which I had drawn should be so unceremoniously dropped.

I had something more serious to consider, however, and with my pique smothered by real anxiety, I faced the fact that as yet Philip Veritzen had said no word of approval of my third act He had listened attentively while I read it but his only comment had been caustic disapproval of the character Vickers

"Tell me,' he said after a long pause during which his fingers had beaten a tattoo upon the arm of his chair, "what is your attitude toward this play? Is it so dear to you that you will resent consciously, or otherwise, any changes made in it?"

Then he was not altogether displeased with my work' My spirits leaped, but I was careful to keep my voice strictly matter-of-fact as I answered.

"I cannot tell you about the 'otherwise,'" I said smiling, "but I can promise you that consciously I not only shall expect to make many changes, but shall welcome any criticism I am not a 'temperamental author,' and I haven't any illusions about this play. It is a piece of work which I have been given to do I want to do the very best job possible"

"Bravo'" Mr. Veritzen applauded softly. "That is the spirit I like. Frankly, there was something in your face when I expressed my opinion of the character, Vickers, which made me wonder if I had another 'artiste' on my hands. Man and boy, I've suffered from quite a succession of them, both writers and players, and I know most of the signs. I'm exceedingly glad to be mistaken, however, and I dare to tell you now, what I would not have said until I understood your attitude, that your third act fulfills the promise of the first two. There is no sense of let down, with the exception of Vickers—and I really believe that you must have been in the throes of a nightmare when you depicted him"

"I don't know about that' I said demurely 'but I agree with you that the character is most undesirable and I shall be very glad to eliminate him from the play'

Mr Veritzen took out his eyeglasses, wiped them adjusted them to his nose again and then putting the tips of his fingers together, alternately opened and closed his hands as he stared off into space It was a gesture familiar to me and I knew that he was mentally debating some point, the decision of which would be announced later At last he dropped his hands upon the arms of the chair again and spoke slowly

"I do not think we need eliminate him altogether he said. "He has points I should like to see what you can do in reconstructing him The rest of the act can stand as it is I don't mind telling you that it is as pretty a piece of craftsmanship as I have seen in a long time Pulling Vickers out of it entirely would entail a reconstruction which might spoil it. But it ought to be possible for you to modify the character without much trouble."

"You won't know him when you see him again," I promised with a smile Indeed, I felt like laughing aloud with sheer joy at the encomium which he had given my third act.

"When will that be?" he countered quickly.

HOLD TWO BOYS ON AUTO THEFT CHARGE

Marion and Cleveland Youths To Be Brought Here from Indiana.

Warrants for the arrest of Robert Andrews, 16, and Forrest Blue, 17, whose home is thought to be in Cleveland, on charges of automobile stealing, was filed in municipal court yesterday afternoon by Cline Vance of 729 Silver street.

The two boys, according to the police, were arrested in Valparaiso, Ind., early yesterday afternoon when they attempted to steal gasoline to use in a coupe belonging to Vance and which was stolen from north Prospect street near Center on Aug. 2.

The boys were taken to the county jail at Valparaiso, Ind. It was expected the boys would be brought back to this city today.

Blue, according to the police, was involved in the theft of a sum of money from a north Main street woman several weeks ago and had recently been released from the county detention home.

The Stars Say—

For Friday, Aug. 14

THE astrological forecast today, while presaging some advantages and financial increase, sings of a sinister or secret undermining of plans and projects, with delays, impediments and vexations. There is an undercurreat of treachery, fraud and subtle attack, which may be successfully anticipated and vigorously dealt with since the mind will be alert, resourceful and under high-pressure.

Those whose birthday it is may have a contradictory year, with some benefits and financial progress, but this by overcoming obstacles, delays, and intrigue and subtle attempts at fraud and betrayal. A child born on this day may be mentally keen, alert, aggressive and ambitious, attaining success by these qualities as well as by intrigue and craft.

Notable nativity: Ernest Thompson Seton, naturalist.

Of course women prefer them they're FRESH!

NOTHING in a cigarette has ever appealed to women so swiftly and truly as the fresh mildness of Camels in the Humidor Pack.

To the delicate feminine throat the suave, cool fragrance of this perfectly conditioned cigarette comes as a genuine and welcome boon.

Now women smokers as well as men are learning what a throat-friendly joy a fine cigarette in prime, factory-fresh condition can be!

Now they can relish the satisfaction of expertly blended fine Turkish and mild Domestic tobaccos free from the scratch-and-sting of parched and dusty dryness.

Camels in the Humidor Pack are just what good cigarettes should be — fine tobaccos kept fine, no matter where or when you buy them.

The scientific germ-safe wrapping — not plain ordinary Cellophane, but moisture-proof Cellophane which costs nearly twice as much — seals in all the factory freshness and aroma, seals it so tightly that wet weather cannot make Camels damp, nor drought weather make them dry.

If your taste is jaded with the heat and sting of fast-burning dried-out cigarettes, try cool, humidor fresh Camels for a grateful change.

Give your throat a vacation — try Camels for just one day; then quit them—if you can.

CAMELS

Mild . . NO CIGARETTY AFTER-TASTE

Tune in CAMEL QUARTER HOUR featuring Morton Downey and Tony Wons—Columbia Broadcasting System—every night except Sunday

Smoke a FRESH cigarette

Don't remove the moisture-proof Cellophane from your package of Camels after you open it. The Humidor Pack is protection against perfume and powder odors, dust and germs. It delivers fresh Camels and keeps them right until the last one has been smoked

GOV. PINCHOT TO CALL LEGISLATURE

Will Convene Extra Session in Move To Control Utility Commission.

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 13—Governor Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania arriving here this morning to address Mayor Frank Murphy's unemployment committee, confirmed a statement made yesterday by Mrs. Pinchot in Benton, Pa., that he would call an extra session of the Pennsylvania legislature to discuss utility legislation.

"I have reiterated that if I did not get the legislation I wanted in regard to the Pennsylvania utility commission, I would call an extra session," the governor said. "It is a promise I made in campaign addresses several months ago, and it will be carried out."

Friends of the governor who accompanied him here said the governor in the extra session would seek executive control over the seven-man utility commission in Pennsylvania, which now is invested in the state legislature. A lengthy controversy has been carried on by the governor, they said, in an attempt to place the commission under his direction.

Governor Pinchot said he had set no definite time when he would call the extra session.

No More Hemorrhoids

All Pile Agony Ended Without Cutting or Salves.

It takes only one bottle of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt's prescription—HEMROID—to end itching, bleeding, protruding piles. This internal remedy acts quickly even in old, stubborn cases. HEM-ROID succeeds because it heals and restores the affected parts and removes blood congestion in the lower bowel—the cause of piles. Only an internal medicine can do this, that's why salves and cutting fail. Henney & Cooper says HEM-ROID Tablets must end your Pile misery or money back. Adv.

Here's MILEAGE on the Bargain Counter

Take a look at the amazingly low Goodyear Pathfinder prices listed here—mileage is certainly on the bargain counter.

Never in the history of the automobile have good tires been priced so low.

You can have all the values of Supertwist cord, of Goodyear craftsmanship—long wear, safe riding, trouble-free performance—so cheap that anyone can afford them.

Peace of mind costs so little now that it's an ideal time to outfit that car of yours with new Pathfinders all around—a whole new set.

Don't take a chance on the hazard and worry of threadbare tires any longer—you don't need to, with prices like these.

You'll find these handsome sturdy Pathfinders a real bargain buy, not alone because of their low cost, but because they're Goodyear calibre through and through.

ALL'S not quiet on the softball front. Every day arguments are becoming hotter and more frequent concerning the selection of players for the all-Marion teams this season. Recently there was published in this column a team picked by an interested fan of the city. Today there is another one here. The latest selections are about as different from the first as night is from day. The second also contains selections for a second team whereas the first named only a first string lineup. Here's the second list.

First team: R. Merchant, 1b, (Trinity and C., D. & M.); Baldauf, 2b, (Calvary and Silk Mill); Gallant, 3b, (Presbyterians); Staley, ss, (Trinity and C., D. & M.); Neimeyer, lf, (Calvary and Gasco club); Robbins, cf, captain, (Calvary and Erie Roundhouse); Sloat, rf, (St. Paul and Huber); Johnson, c, (Prospect Firemen); Gamble, p, (Epworth No. 1 and C., D. & M.), and Roseberry, utility, (Epworth No. 1 and K. of P.)

Second team: Cram, 1b, captain, (Epworth Bishops and Huber); W Merchant, 2b, (Trinity Baptist); H Fetter, 3b, (Epworth Bishops and C., D. & M.); Pohler, ss, (Presbyterians); Irvin, lf, (St. Mary); S Somerlot, cf, (Trinity and Serv-U-Wel); Penry rf, (Epworth Seniors); K Conkle, c, (Lee Street and C., D. & M.); Kellogg, p, (Forest Lawn and Huber); Marquis, utility, (Epworth Seniors and Steam Shovel).

You guessed it! The fellow that named those lineups was a Trinity Baptist and also a C., D. & M. man.

Last season the Epworth Bishops and Central Christian No. 1 teams battled it out in a pair of post season games for the right to stay in the No. 1 circuit. The Bishops won out in the end after a hard battle.

This season it is the Lutherans and Epworth Seniors who are battling for the doubtful honor of being shunted back into the No. 2 league. Right now the Seniors are in the lead in the standings by a single game and have yet to play the Lutherans. In case the Lutherans win, whenever the game is played off, a tie will exist which will necessitate another game to decide the cellar occupant.

These "cellar championship" battles may yet assume a position of importance. With both teams working hard to keep in the faster league, most anything is likely to happen. Last season the ham sandwiches were given to the Christian No. 1 players. Which team's members will get them this year?

BY BOB KIRKPATRICK
Sports Editor, The Star

A few years ago John Miljus uncorked a wild heave from the pitcher's box that tossed away a world's series. Yesterday Harold Hinamon loosed a similar heave from second base that broke a 2-2 tie in the last half of the seventh and allowed Trinity Baptist to take the measure of the Epworth Bishops 3-2.

The game marked the second hard fought battle between these two teams this season and also marked the second victory for the Baptists over the Bishops. In the first round game this season Trinity applied the whitewash to the Methodist representatives 2-0. Yesterday the score was only 3-2. If they played two or three games more this season, figuring the same percentage of improvement on the part of the Bishops, the Methodist team might come through with a victory.

Applegett vs. Mautz

It was Applegett versus Mautz on the mound yesterday. Both were plenty stingy with hits, the Trinity hurler giving up eight hits, while Mautz was nicked for five during his six and one third inning performance.

It was a tough break for Hinamon, having his error at the time he did. While the Trinity victory may be credited to his bad throw the Bishops would never have had their two runs if it hadn't been for him. Hinamon launched a rally in the fifth frame that accounted for both of the Bishops' runs when he banged out a double that scored one man ahead of him and then scored himself on Cram's single. Someone apparently had to be the goat and he happened to be it.

In the second No. 1 Sunday school league game played yesterday Lee Street Presbyterians hung a 6-4 beating on Epworth No. 1. Epworth had only seven men on the field for the game, the rest of the team apparently not being particularly interested in whether the Clark entry finished in the first or second division. The defeat cost Clark a chance to keep his team in the select bracket. Epworth No. 1 stands in fifth place in the final standings, a game behind their Sunday school classmates, the Bishops.

Tried Hard Enough

Epworth put up a good fight against Lee Street, despite the fact they had but seven in the lineup. Trailing 4-0 up to the fifth, the losers staged a rally in the first half of this inning that chased in four runs and knotted the count. "Zig" Snyder gets credit for driving in all four of the Methodist scores. He drove out a home run with three mates aboard. Snyder's homer came after Dowler, Wilson and Huntsman had hit successive singles to clog the bases.

Lee Street drove across another pair of runs in the last half of the fifth to break the tie and take a lead that was not headed.

Wesley Forfeits

Besides the two No. 1 Sunday school league games there was one No. 2 league contest. St. Paul Lutherans and Wesley M. E. played off a tie game that ended in a 4-4 tie. However, the game was ruled a forfeit in favor of St. Paul, as Wesley used several ineligible men in its lineup.

The scheduled game between Epworth Seniors and Lutherans was postponed.

TWO AMERICANS LEFT IN AMATEUR TOURNEY

Canadian Player Favored To Win Golf Title Over Montreal Course.

By The Associated Press

MONTREAL, Aug. 13—Two veterans of the links, one from Canada and one from the United States remained as the outstanding contenders today as the Canadian amateur golf championship went into its quarter final round.

Arthur Yates of Rochester, N. Y., was one of the two survivors from the United States while C. Ross Somerville, the defending champion from London, Ont., stood out above the six remaining Canadians. Yates won his second round match yesterday from Gordon Taylor of Montreal, 6 and 5, while Somerville scored his second double-figure victory, eliminating Hugh B. Jaques of Montreal, 10 and 9.

Francis W. Ryan of Detroit, was left to aid Yates in carrying the United States colors in the tournament after the second round. He defeated T. Gordon McCarthy of Montreal, 8 to 6 while his father, William Ryan, was losing to Edwin A. Innes of Montreal, 6 and 5.

HE KNOWS NOW

Hickey Sees Saints Wallop Colonels 14-1 To Boost Lead.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Aug. 13. President Thomas Jefferson Hickey now knows from personal observation why St. Paul is spoiling all the fun for the other seven clubs in the American Association flag chase.

A little confused over the steady romp of the Saints, the league chief decided to watch them play Louisville's Colonels yesterday and when he left the park, he knew for himself. The Saints played like champions and staggered the Colonels, 14 to 1.

The victory hiked St. Paul's lead in the one-club race to 10½ games as Indianapolis, the second place entry, was forced to idleness along with all the other clubs because of rain.

Pheasants Released.

O. H. Neimeyer of Prospect, state game protector, announced today that he has liberated 150 ringneck pheasant in Marion county. Neimeyer expects to liberate about the same number more before the opening of the hunting season. These birds were raised on the new game farm at Urbana, Ohio. Charles Allen of LaRue is superintendent of the farm.

Jimmy Wilson Important Cog in Cardinal Pennant Drive

Jimmy Wilson, veteran receiver, is one reason why the champion St. Louis Cardinals are out ahead of the pack in the chase for the National league pennant. Wilson is having one of his best seasons.

ST. LOUIS — Cardinal fans this year refuse to concede anything to any catcher in the National league.

In Jimmy Wilson it is felt that the club has a better man behind the plate than any of the teams which are striving to halt the pennant march of Gabby Street's crew. Wilson, who was traded to the Cards early in the 1928 campaign, is one of the hardest working catchers in the majors. He has played in more than 100 games a season during the eight years in the big leagues.

Jimmy's career as an athlete started while he was still in his teens and an apprentice in a silk mill. His energy then went into professional soccer. Later he joined the New Haven baseball club, and played three years in the Eastern league before he broke into big time with the Phillies. He was named manager the latter part of the 1926 season when Art Fletcher was suspended.

Like Mickey Cochrane, great catcher of the Philadelphia Athletics, Wilson is fast and a good base runner.

One of the ambitions of Cardinal fans is to see these two tie up in a receiving duel in another world's series.

If necessary, Wilson can play other positions acceptably. With the Phillies he occasionally played in both the infield and outfield.

During the winter he still works in a silk mill, drawing good wages as a skilled artisan.

SIX GAMES ON SKED FOR OPENING DAY AT LINCOLN PARK

One County, Eight Marion City Teams Entered; Lima, Ashland, Other Cities Represented.

Nosing under the entry deadline wire by only a short time the Linden Gophers of Columbus have filed their entry for the Central Ohio recreation baseball tournament. Inasmuch as the entries are limited to 20 teams, the Gophers will replace the Harruff Tigers of Marion. It is possible that the late entry of the Gophers will make a slight change in the playing of the games of Sunday, Aug. 16. If such a change is made, notice will be published Friday in The Star. The Linden Gophers are one of the leading teams of Columbus and are well known in recreation ball circles here.

A LAST minute deluge of entries yesterday sent the total number of teams competing in the first annual Central Ohio recreation baseball tournament skyrocketing to 20. The tournament will get under way at Lincoln park on Sunday, August 16 at 12 noon with a program of six games scheduled for the opening day. The tournament will continue on Sunday, Aug. 30 and on Monday, Sept 7. (Labor day)

Of the 20 teams entered in the tourney eight are from Marion and one from Marion county. Marion teams which will compete are the Huber Rollers, City Coal & Service stations, Serv-U-Wel Grocers, Jenner Lunches, Recreation Billiards, Marion All-Stars, Harruff Tigers and Marion Merchants. The Marion county team is the Farmers' Club, an all-star organization made up of players of the Marion county league.

Out-of-Town Teams

Out-of-town teams entered in the tournament are, Firestone Service Stores of Lima, St. Mary's Paper Makers of St. Marys, Elks Lodge of Delaware, Ed's Drugs of Crestline, Mohican Rubber company of Ashland, Equity Union Creamery of Lima, Ghaster Outdoor Ads Inc., of Lima, Botkin & Taylor Drugs of Delaware, O. C. Grocers of Bucyrus; Beck's Barbers of Findlay, and Nevada.

Pairings were completed last night for the entire tournament. The first game Sunday will commence promptly at 12 noon with five others following at one hour intermissions.

Sunday's schedule is as follows:

12 m.—Recreation Billiards of Marion vs. Botkin & Taylor Drugs of Delaware.

1 p. m.—Elks Lodge of Delaware vs. Ed's Drugs of Crestline.

2 p. m.—Huber Rollers of Marion vs. Equity Union Creamery of Lima.

3 p. m.—Farmers' club of Marion county vs. St. Marys' Paper Makers of St. Marys.

4 p. m.—Jenner Lunches of Marion vs. Firestone Tire Stores of Lima.

5 p. m.—City Coal & Service stations of Marion vs. Ghaster Outdoor Ads of Lima.

Rest of Schedule

The eight teams which will not get into play the first day of the tourney will be matched as follows: Marion Merchants of Marion vs. Mohican Rubber company of Ashland; Nevada vs. Harauff Tigers, and Serv-U-Wel Grocers of Marion vs. O. C. Grocers of Bucyrus, and Marion All-Stars of Marion vs. Beck's Barbers of Findlay. The time for these last four games has not been definitely set.

With the number of good teams that are entered in this tournament, Marion softball fans are assured several days of softball easily comparable with the games regularly played in the four city leagues. Lima is sending three teams here and all of them are playing among the leaders of their home city. Delaware is sending its two best teams. The St. Mary's Paper Makers are reputed to be a plenty tough aggregation. Nevada, while coming from a smaller community than the majority of the other entries has nevertheless compiled a record that will stand comparison with that of any other tournament entry. Nevada has lost but one game and has defeated the best teams of Bucyrus, Crestline and surrounding towns. The Mohican Rubber company is one of Ashland's outstanding softball teams.

Bacon To Play

Marions eight entries will include some of the best softball stars in the city. Local fans will welcome the return to competition, after a year's absence, of Francis Bacon, former star of the Marion Steam Shovel. The Jenner Lunches have signed Bacon to play shortstop for them in this tournament.

The lineup of the local teams will be given in detail in Friday's issue of The Star.

The winner of this tournament will be given an award of in cash. The runner-up will get $25. Competent officials have been secured to handle the tourney, which will be governed by the same rules under which Marion recreation ball is played. Norris Crissinger of Marion and Johnson of Prospect will do the officiating. Crissinger is president of the city recreation baseball commission and Johnson is a catcher for the Prospect Firemen of the Commercial league.

BOTTOMLEY POUNDS SPHERE HARD TO AID CARDS WIN 2 GAMES

Cleveland and New York Break Even in Pair of Slugfests.

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

A season or two ago sunny Jim Bottomley was the slugging idol of St. Louis fandom. A brilliant first baseman and an effective batter he had things almost his own way with the crowds. Then he went to an almost total eclipse as a slugger in his batting was follow[illegible] season with the rise of the rookie hitter recruit, Jim Co[illegible] and "Sunny Jim" became a bench warmer.

But Bottomley is back on the job now and he apparently means to hold it. He didn't get into action until a week ago when Co[illegible] was hurt but since then he has been playing with all his old time dash and hitting harder than ever.

"Sunny Jim" was right back of Jess Haines and Flint Rhem yesterday to help the Cardinals take a double victory over the Brooklyn Robins. In the first clash he hit a home run and two singles and he added a triple in the second. Aided by this clouting the Cardinals won the opener 5 to 0 as Haines turned in an 11-hit shutout, then pounded out an 8 to 5 decision in the second game although Jeremy Frederick hit two homers and Lefty O'Doul one.

Cards Hold Lead

The double victory enabled the Cards to remain 8½ games ahead of the Chicago Cubs, who went to second place by winning two from the Phillies. The Cubs had to go 10 innings before they hammered Sheriff Blake from the mound with five runs to win the first game 7 to 3, but the second was easy as they piled up 18 hits to win 12-1.

The New York Giants slid back to third when they could get no better than an even break with Pittsburgh's Pirates. Remy Kremer checked all the Giants except Mel Ott in the first clash and Pittsburgh won 6 to 4. Ott drove a three of the Giant runs with two homers. He hit another four safer in the second game while Paul Walker held the Pirates to three hits for a 9 to 0 triumph. The doubleheader between Cincinnati and Boston was rained out.

Two Hitting Sprees

The New York Yankees and Cleveland Indians supplied the American league program with some comedy but they each managed to gain a half game on Philadelphia and Washington by splitting a twin bill. The Yanks scored 25 runs to Cleveland's 18 in the two games. New York piled up 38 hits behind Lefty Gomez' effective pitching to win the first slugfest 18 to 1, but the Indians made 33 hits good for 17 runs in the second and won 17 to 7.

Keeping pace as usual, Philadelphia's Athletics and Washington's Senators each lost a game. George Earnshaw failed to hold an early Philadelphia lead and Detroit finally won by a 7-6 count in the twelfth inning. Washington went down in the regulation time before Vic Frasier and the Chicago White Sox 11 to 1.

Boston's Red Sox made it two straight over the St. Louis Browns 6 to 5, when Sammy Gray made a costly error in the ninth after giving five runs in the fifth.

NOTICE FOR PAROLE

Albert Reynolds, No. 24631 a prisoner now confined in the Ohio State Reformatory, has been recommended to the Ohio Board of Clemency by the Superintendent and the Chaplain of the Ohio State Reformatory as worthy of consideration for parole. Said application will be for hearing on and after August 13th, 1931.

SCHOOL BOARD IS NAMED DEFENDANT

Galion City District Seeks Payment of $1,574.22 in Crawford County Court.

Special to The Star

MT GILEAD, Aug 13—Application for a writ of mandamus to compel the payment of $1 574 22 allegedly due from the Congress township rural school district to the Galion city school district has been filed in the common pleas court of Judge W P Vaughan by George H. Davis, attorney for the Galion city board of education

Judge Vaughan has set Saturday Aug. 22 as the date for the hearing on the mandamus action and the members of the Congress township board, Hugh Mitchell, A Higgins, Orla Grogg, Ralph Hendershot, and E J Logan, have been notified to appear at the hearing

In 1928 the Galion board made application for and secured a judgment for the amount named in the common pleas court and the court instructed R T Kerr clerk of the board, to certify the amount to the board This was done but in the petition now filed it is claimed that the Congress township school district board has failed to place the amount on the tax budget to be submitted to the county auditor and that in consequence the judgment secured has not been satisfied

COUNCIL MEETS

Mt. Gilead Officials and Construction Co. Group Discuss Bill.

MT. GILEAD, Aug. 13—At a special meeting of council Monday night final payment of the amount due the Mt. Gilead Construction Co on the contract for the repair of the three filter beds at the sewage disposal plant was made The bill as approved totaled $1,619 91 and with a previous payment of $746 19 brought the total cost to $1,366 10

The special meeting was called to arrange a settlement when it became evident that the council and the construction company had a difference of opinion as to the correctness of the bill submitted. The difference arose when a cheaper grade of sand was substituted after the state health department had failed to approve the more expensive sand specified in the contract Council members stated that the actual cost of the sand used was approximately $250 less than the sand specified when the contract was let and that the company should make their final bill less by that amount.

W E. Miller, representing the company, finally agreed to a reduction of $80 and on motion of A. W. Payne, seconded by Loyd Dye, the final payment was authorized by council.

The construction company in submitting their bill had adhered to the contract price and no arrangement for a reduction because of the difference in the sand was made when the contract was made

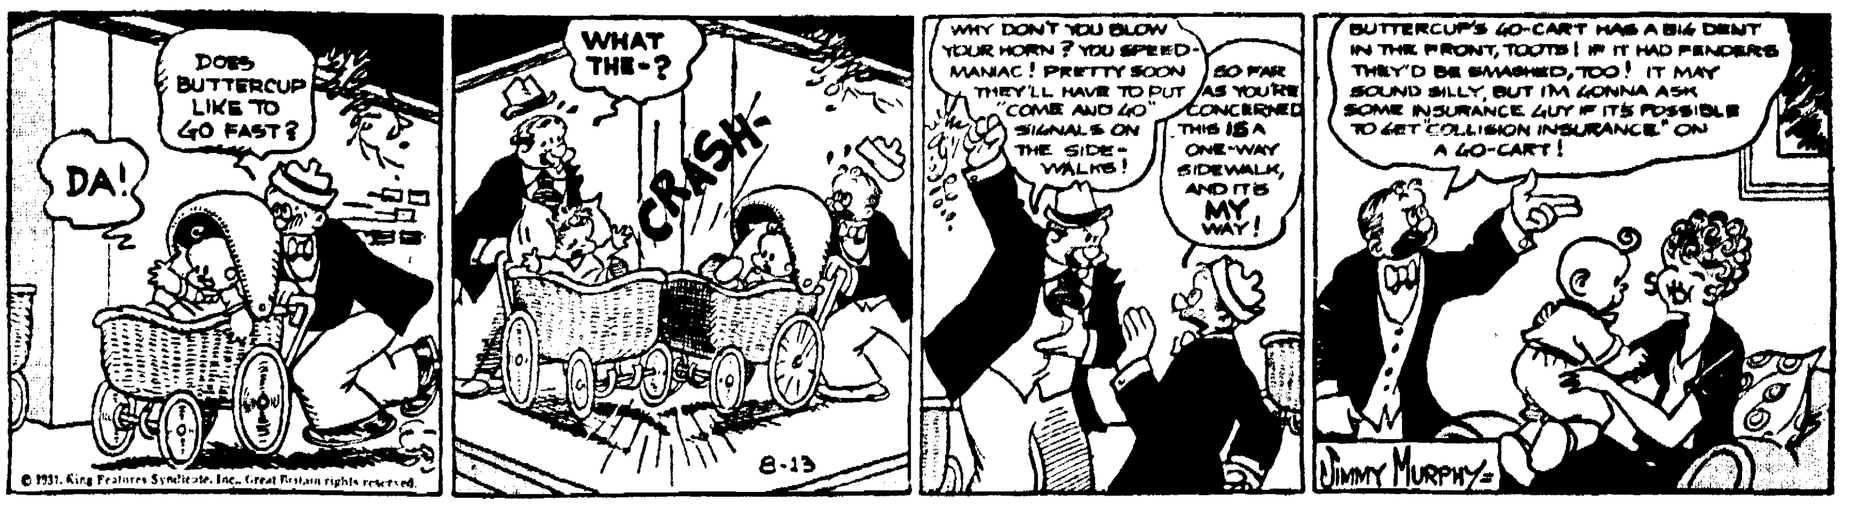
POLLY AND HER PALS — BY CLIFF STERRETT

TRY AN' REMEMBER YER A GENTLEMAN AN' THAT PETER IS POLLY'S GUEST!
REALLY, PETE?
NAW! I AIN'T AFRAID OF YER FATHER! I WAS THE CHAMPION SHOT-PUTTER OF 1927!
PARDON ME, PETE! I JESS WANNA SHOW YE THE CHAMPEEN SHOT-PUTTER OF 1776!
CLIFF STERRETT 8-13

KRAZY KAT — BY HERRIMAN

HERE NOW, BROTHER "KRAZY" - YOU ARE ONE OF US, SO GO FORTH AND SPREAD THE BEAUTIFUL MESSAGE OF LOYALTY, AND FRATERNAL REALTY TO EVERY DARKENED SOUL IN COCONINO COUNTY, AND BID THEM BASK IN THE LAMBENT LIGHT OF EQUALNESS - AND NOW BROTHER "KRAZY" TO PROVE TO YOU THAT I AM A GOOD BROTHER TO YOU - ASK ME FOR SOMETHING -
WOULD YOU GIVE ME THAT BRICK OFF. UH, I MEAN - BROTHER "PUPP"?
SURE, BROTHER KRAZY - HERE YARE
THENX - SISTA, UH, I MEAN - BROTHER "PUPP"
AND TO THINK, I GOT THAT BRICK FROM BROTHER IGNATZ - HEHEHE - THE WAGABONE - WONT HIS FOOL PRIDE BE TWISTED WHEN HE FINDS OUT INTO WHOSE HANDS FATE HAS TOSSED IT? HAHAHA
WOT IS IT YOU WUNT, BROTHER "MICE"? THAT I GOT? IT'S A WOLD OF FIVE LETTERS, BIGINNING WIT "B," AND RHYMES WIT "TRICK"
MMMMMMM LET ME SEE - LET ME SEE -

TOOTS AND CASPER — BY JIMMY MURPHY



DOES BUTTERCUP LIKE TO GO FAST?
DA!
WHAT THE -?
CRASH
8-13
WHY DON'T YOU BLOW YOUR HORN? YOU SPEED-MANIAC! PRETTY SOON THEY'LL HAVE TO PUT "COME AND GO" SIGNALS ON THE SIDEWALKS!
SO FAR AS YOU'RE CONCERNED THIS IS A ONE-WAY SIDEWALK, AND IT'S MY WAY!
BUTTERCUP'S GO-CART HAS A BIG DENT IN THE FRONT, TOOTS! IF IT HAD FENDERS THEY'D BE SMASHED, TOO! IT MAY SOUND SILLY, BUT I'M GONNA ASK SOME INSURANCE GUY IF IT'S POSSIBLE TO GET "COLLISION INSURANCE" ON A GO-CART!
JIMMY MURPHY

ANNIE ROONEY — BY DARREL McCLURE

IT IS BAD LUCK - YOU MUST ALL REMAIN HERE - I WILL RETURN WITH HELP AND GASOLINE
STRANGE WATERS - AND THE PILOT DESERTS THE SHIP!!
THIS BRUSH FIRE IS NO ACCIDENT - THE GUIDE MUST BE ONE OF COLENBY'S GANG! WE ARE CAUGHT LIKE RATS IN A TRAP!!
I GOT A HUNCH - TURN THE CAR AROUND QUICK
GEE, I WISH THIS OLD HILL WAS STEEPER - THAT FIRE IS GAINING ON US!
IF WE CAN MAKE THAT TURN, WE'LL HAVE A CHANCE!
OH, BILL, WE JUST GOTTA MAKE IT - THAT'S ALL - WE JUST GOTTA!

Today in Marion Markets

Groceries, Produce, Meat, Grain, Livestock

Sweet corn which is now nearing the peak of the season, was almost a drug on the market today. Dealers were carrying unusually large supplies and in some cases were offering two dozen for 25 cents, although the average price was around 15 cents. The recent rains, growers said today, will do much toward assuring a large crop. Other green vegetable prices were steady with only fairly large supplies available. Peas and beans were only fairly plentiful and dealers were asking 25 cents for three pounds.

Watermelons at 35 cents were a general offering. The higher priced melons having disappeared from the market. Cantaloupes, both home grown and shipped in, were selling today at from 10 to 20 cents. With the arrival of home grown varieties, the supply has become larger. Peaches for canning were not so plentiful. What stock was being carried by dealers was being offered at six pounds for 25 cents. Bananas were selling at five and six cents a pound.

NEW HOPE FOR OIL INDUSTRY

Results Expected from Campaign of Oklahoma and Texas Governors.

By The Associated Press

AUSTIN, Tex., Aug. 13—Mid-continent oil men today looked for better times in a distressed industry due to a conservation bill passed by the Texas legislature and eight days of enforced shutdown of Oklahoma production by Governor W. H. Murray.

The Texas measure, designed to put a stricter curb on oil production, was overwhelmingly approved by both houses and signed by Governor Ross S. Sterling last night, a few hours before the adjournment of a 30-day special session called by the governor to enact oil legislation. The governor had threatened to follow Murray's example and use martial law to enforce a shutdown if the legislators took no action.

An indication of a break in refiners' refusal to hike crude oil prices to $1 a barrel minimum demanded by the fiery Oklahoma chief executive was seen in an offer by the Cushing Refining & Gasoline company, of Cushing, Okla., to pay that amount for needed crude.

Murray stopped production in Oklahoma pro-rated fields Aug. 4, and except for the Cushing offer, the top price for crude has been 52 cents

The bill provides the state railroad commission, Texas oil regulatory body, with authority to prevent any forms of physical waste in oil and gas production and calls for a straight precedure for operators violating the commission's orders.

LOWER PRICES PREVAIL

We are following the low price trend—practically everything in our complete stock at much lower prices than formerly—in fact our prices are lower than many so-called sales.

She was born Sept. 3, 1839, in Shamokin, Pa., to Louis and Deborah Leonhart.

Surviving her is a son, Robert Gardner of Fountain street. Two brothers and two sisters preceded her in death. She was a member of the Baptist church at Ada, O.

The funeral will be Saturday at 2:30 p. m. at the Schaffner-Queen funeral home on east Center street Burial will be made in Marion cemetery. Friends may view the body at the funeral home.

NO REFUNDS ALLOWED ON CIGARET LICENSE

County Auditor Gets Ruling from State Attorney General.

No refunds can be made on cigaret licenses in cases where the owner voluntarily discontinued business after July 9, 1931, it was announced today by County Auditor Earl E. Thomas after receiving an opinion from the state attorney general.

The new licensing law passed at the last session of the legislature made no provision for a refund in case of suspension of business before the period covered by the license ended, the opinion said. Previously refunds were allowed.

License fees and fines collected under the old law must be distributed according to the provisions of that statute, another opinion said. Under the new law one-half of the fees go to the state, one-fourth to the county and the remaining one-fourth to the subdivision where license is used.

Central Labor Union Makes Celebration Plans

George E. Eyre Named General Chairman in Charge of Event To Be Held September 7; Erie Carmen's Official Speaks at Meeting.

Education and organization among the workmen as a means of preventing future depressions, was urged by Louis Mastriani, of Newark, N. J., general chairman of the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen of the Erie railway, in a talk at the regular meeting of the Central Labor union last night.

The Union also took the first step in plans for the celebration of Labor Day on Sept. 7, when George E. Eyre, of 562 Thompson street, was named general chairman for the day. Plans were also made to appoint committees at the trustees and officers meeting to be held Sunday, Aug. 16.

Fred W. Spriggs of 436 Mary street, a guest at the meeting, talked on the proposed staff at the City hospital saying that the transportation brotherhoods were opposed o closing the doors of the hospital to any physician.

The alleged inroads by the bus and truck lines into rail transportation was also discussed at the meeting, stress being laid on the number of men, who, it was charged, have been laid off as the result.

FIRST TABULATION OF VOTES CORRECT

Unofficial Count of Primary Vote Tuesday O. K., Check Reveals.

The vote recorded in the city primary Tuesday and announced yesterday by the board of elections will stand as official.

Members of the board completed the official count yesterday afternoon and no errors were discovered in the tabulations of the precinct workers.

Only two close races were recorded in the primary. William C. Phillians defeated R. E. Prettyman for the Republican nomination for mayor by 68 votes and Roy S. Jennings won by a nine-vote margin over J. M. Miller for the Democratic nomination as councilman from the sixth ward.
